With much love, the class of 1971 tenderly dedicates this book to the junior kindergarten class, with the hope that by the year 1984, they will graduate with a few less of our misgivings and enter a world that is shining and bright. Each of us vow to steadfastly work to give to them the kind of world the bards dream about- a world filled with kindness, charity, truth, goodness, and equality for all . . . and why should they not have such a world? Why cannot amity reign, if we all work to the good? Let's try . . .

The class of 1984 would like not only to thank the class of 1971 for their thoughtfulness, but also to continue the tradition and dedicate this book to the junior kindergarten class. We hope that in 1997, the year that your class graduates from Rye Country Day School, you will approach the turn of the century in a world where technological advances benefit all of mankind, and a world where justice prevails.

Enjoy your years, and we will try to be big brothers watching out for each of you.

Fall Fair

Thanks to the efforts of Dennis Sullivan, Bill Bloom, and many of the faculty and students, the Fall Fair was another success. Whether you wanted to dig into a pile of hay to search for candy, move M and M's with a straw, or toss coins into a distant cup, there were activities for everyone. Faces were painted with strange designs, stomachs were filled with tacos, baked goods, hamburgers, and wedges, and friends were serenaded with singing telegrams. You could win prizes, drink soda or cider, and even buy kisses. The day was capped off with a thrilling victory by our football team. The win was similar to the entire Fall Fair because it was made possible by all members of the team.

Wildcats on Rampa

by Matt Zako

The 1983—84 winter athletic season has so far been a great success.

Both boys teams, hockey and basketball, are off to promising starts with positive outlooks for the rest of the season. The hockey team, coached by Frank Effinger and Assistant Coach Gil Castagna, is maintaining a winning season with a record of 0-0. The team has only lost to Iona Prep, and this by only one goal (2-1). Senior defenseman Lou Altman said, "That game we should and could have won, but we played the Gaels early in the season and the Wildcats just weren't working together. I'm looking forward to the Brunswick game." Captain Dave Battel has been a very valuable player in net, making great saves for the Wildcats. Junior Andrew Goldman, Senior Tom Cromie, and Dave Hosp have been outstanding on defense, keeping the puck mostly in the opponets zone. A few of highscoring offensemen are Captain E.A. Hosp, Rob Grossberg, and Freshman, Kyle Flik. The Wildcats hockey squad is looking forward to finishing the season with a bang!

Although the basketball team did not maintain the 23-0 record of last season, they are doing a fine job adding to the winning percentage with a

Girls Shoot to Win

by Kristin Pisacano

The girls Varsity and J.V. basketball teams are both looking forward to a very successful 1984 season. Led by Varsity Captain Peggy Mann, the team is made up of a crowd of new faces and young talent. The girls are confident that they will do well. This season, although star players Jen Cohen and Debbie Singer have been out for most of January, the team has managed to hold together and maintain a very admirable record. The J.V., as well, is fighting hard to win and the leadership of their captain Nancy Benerofe is a strong asset to the team.

The first annual faculty-girls' varsity soccer game was a huge success. The teams were evenly matched, and the competition was highlighted by good spirit on both sides. The girls, led by Wheels Wachenheim, Fearless Furth, and Pele Dalsheim, charged onto the field yelling, "Get the goalie." The girls pressed toward the goal, but the faculty defense of Dennis the Menace Sullivan, Turn The Paige, Bruce "I'm Only Walking" Carlsten, Dollar Buck, and Turn Pike held them back. The faculty team, after a Lott of passes, scored when Terry "Thanks A" Lott constructed a goal. The girls fought back behind Aim Goldstein, Long Meghan, and Red Santos, but the faculty scored again on a pass from Flight Hatcher to Daddy Stabler. The score at the half was 2 - 0. The second half began with a goal by K.P. Pisacano, and the girls had hope. The play of Georgio Hoag, Gogolak Gordon, Sarge Murray advanced the ball to Tiny Tim Gessler who scored the clinching goal. The girls did score on a penalty kick by Never Alona. Both teams are to be congratulated—the girls for their quickly acquired knowledge of the tame—and the faculty for their endurance despite their advancing years.

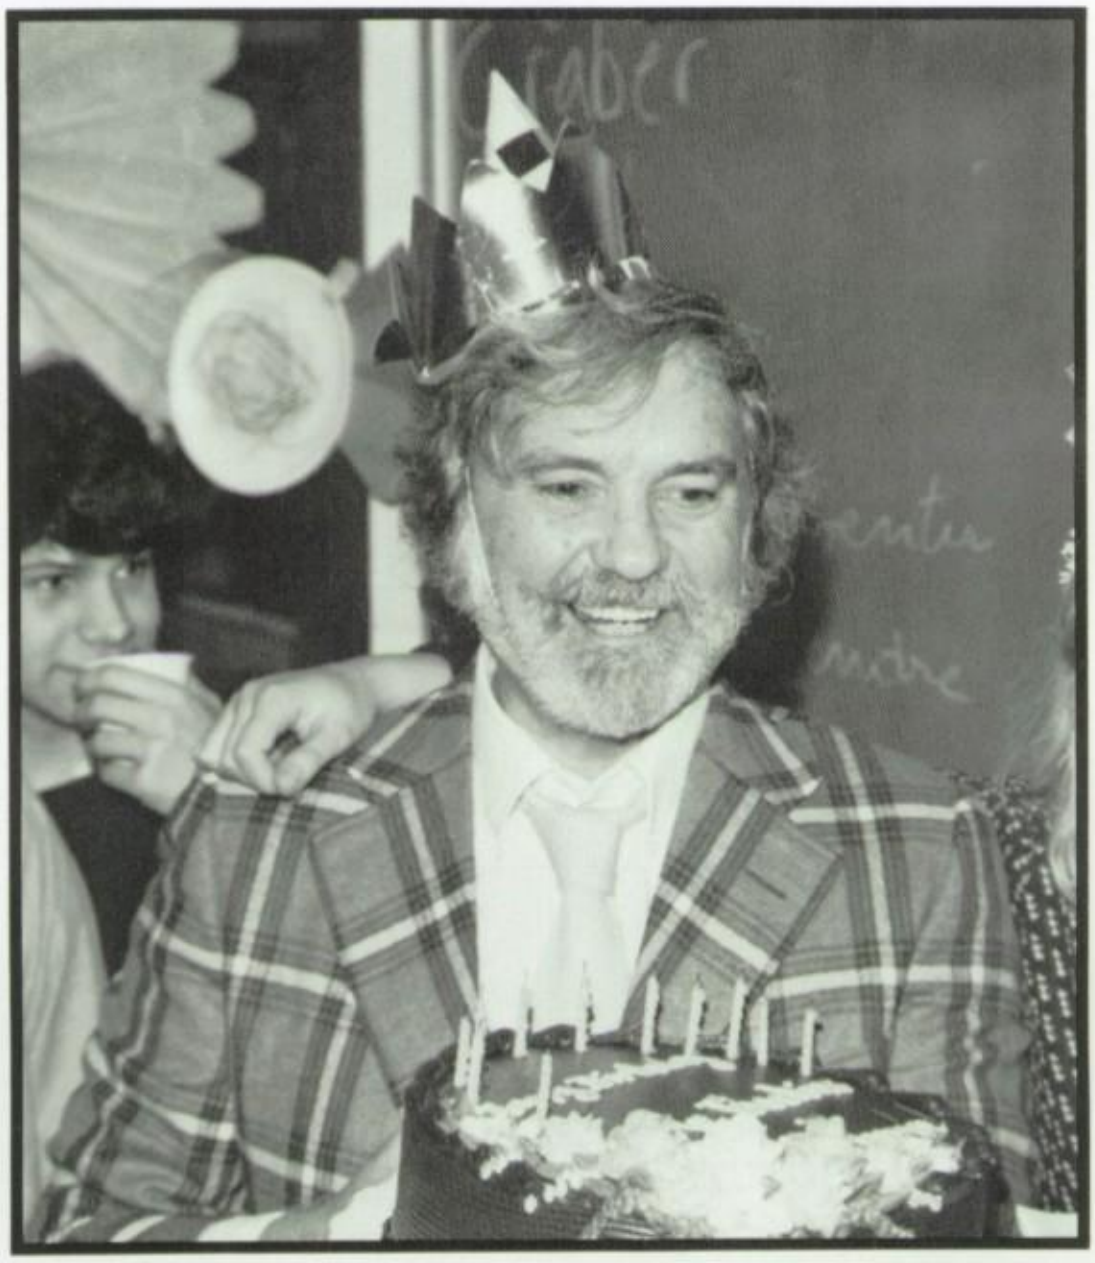
Tribute

The 1984 Yearbook Staff Would Like To Pay Special Tribute To A Faculty Member Who Cares In Many Different Ways. He Encourages Us To Be Creative And Sensitive In Our Work, He Gives Us The Freedom To Express Ourselves, And He Allows Us To Share Our Feelings Not Only With Him But With Others. Whether He Is Acting In Or Directinga Play, Cheering Avidly At An Athletic Contest, Or Just Listening To Our Thoughts, He Is Always Involved. We Thank And Honor Larry Brockius.



What Do Students Want? I Heard A Teacher Say

They want your brain
So you have to have brains
 Brains

But they want more than your Brain: they want your ear.
  So you listen to them,
   Listen

But they want more than your ear,
 They want your eye
  And so you observe
Carefully and without comment you
 See them
You have to have the eye. But They want more than The eye. They want your Life,

The compound-complex of your Wisdom, folly, fortune, fear,
  Your living in an Outside before
And as you come into their Youth, you have to have Lived, lively. But that is not Enough for them. They want your Love, to know what you hold
  Dear, for among those should be Them, who want your Self, your total, tremendous Engagement in the moment they Confront you in the sacred
Rooms of knowledge, all Exalted from the shock of Newfound knowledge, the glee
Of knowledge, the ring, the Sounding
  Ring of knowledge, as the Truth appears in Flashed
  Before astounded minds,
And the (secrets) of the world
 All tumble out in order. For What they really want is
   You
Yourself accomplished
 All mortal-
  Warts and worries, win some lose some-
Self.
Just like them. Just like them.
 Which is the real question

If you are You then maybe I am I
God willing and Goddamn it I AM I.

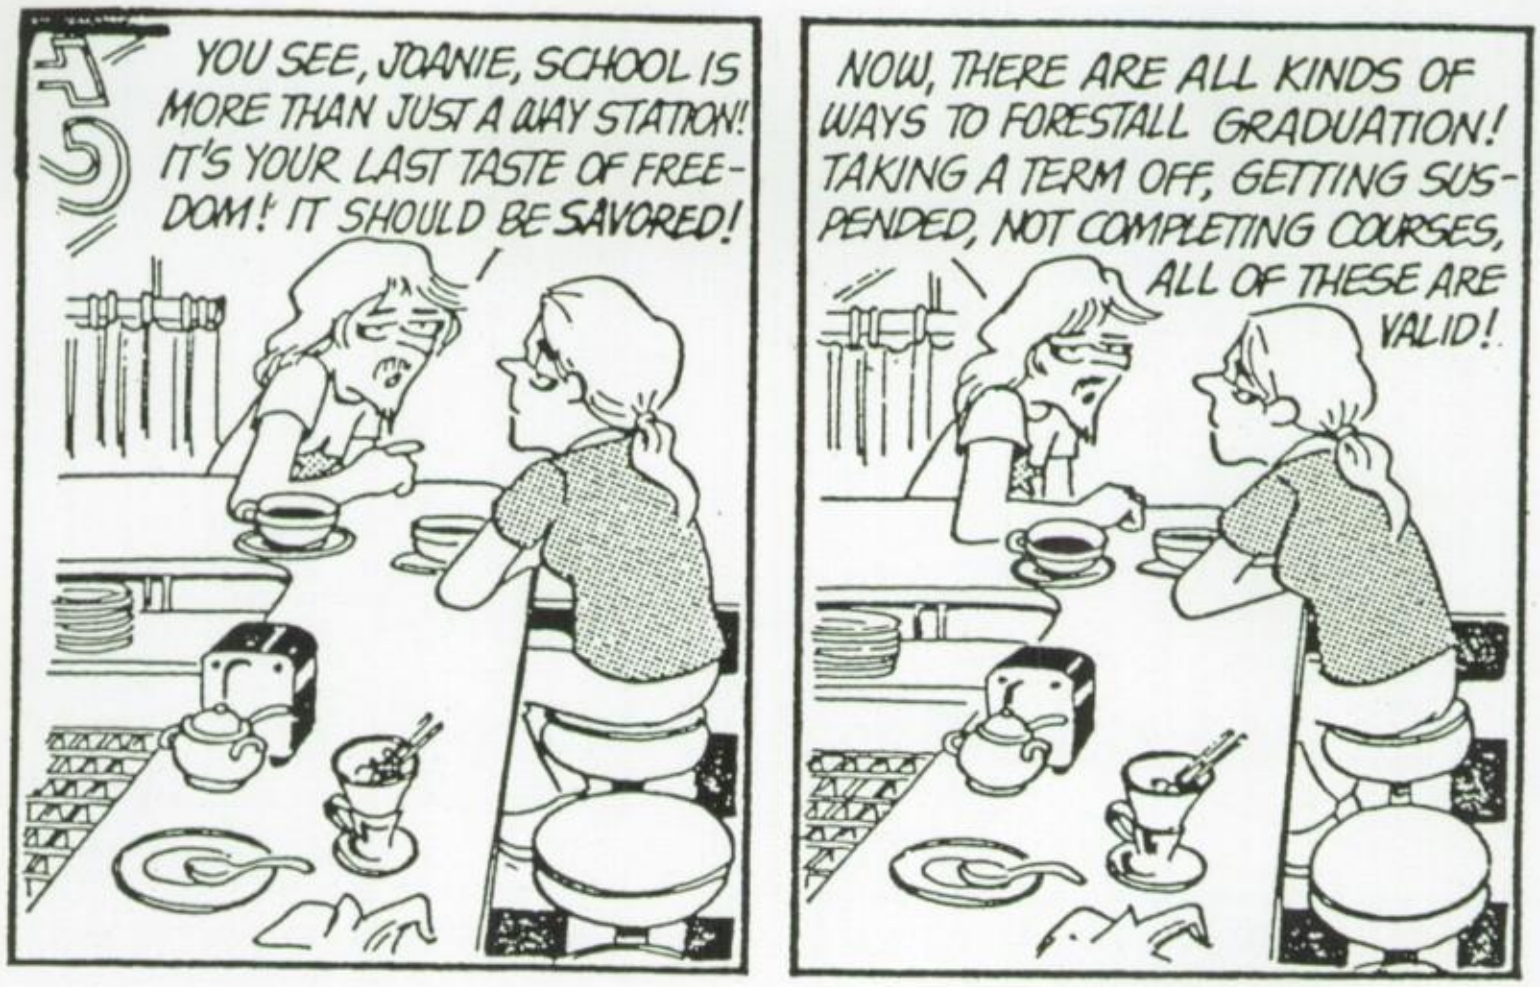
The Class



YOU SEE, JOANIE, SCHOOL IS MORE THAN JUST A WAY STATION! IT'S YOUR LAST TASTE OF FREEDOM! IT SHOULD BE SAVORED!
NOW, THERE ARE ALL KINDS OF WAYS TO FORESTALL GRADUATION! TAKING A TERM OFF, GETTING SUSPENDED, NOT COMPLETING COURSES, ALL OF THESE ARE VALID!
IF YOU JUST PLAN AHEAD, JOANIE, ANYTHING IS POSSIBLE!
YOU MEAN, LIKE WHEN YOU WERE A SOPHOMORE?
EXACTLY! JOANIE; THOSE WERE THREE OF THE HAPPIEST YEARS OF MY LIFE!
YOU WERE PRETTY ADORABLE - THEN..

..AND, OF COURSE, IT'S VERY UPSETTING FOR ME PERSONALLY, MIKE. NONE OF MY FRIENDS HAS EVER GRADU-ATED BEFORE.
UH-HUH. WELL, HOW'S RICK FEEL, ZONK?
RICK? WELL, I'M NOT SURE..
I THINK HE'S STILL WAITING FOR HER TO CALM DOWN..
YOU'RE BURSTING WITH PRIDE, AREN'T YOU, RICK?
GO TO SLEEP, JOANIE..

One likes to believe in the freedom of music
But glittering prizes and endless compromises
Shatter the illusion of integrity

Cast in this unlikely role
Ill-equipped to act
With insufficient tact
One must put up barriers
To keep oneself intact

Everybody need a mood lifter
Everybody need reverse polarity

With my friend the window I have fun watching small kids at play and for a special treat I reminisce about the times when I was a child and all the giddy little things we used to do . . .

As I reminisce I think that windows memories and kids at play help close the gap and hold generations close together

Whenever I walk in a London street,
I'm ever so careful to watch my feet;
And I keep in the squares,
And the masses of bears,
Who wait at the corners all ready to eat
The sillies who tread on the lines of the street,
Go back to their lairs.

-A.A. Milne-

When I was a child,
I caught a fleeting glimpse
Out of the corner of my eye
I turned to look but it was gone
I cannot put my finger on it now.

"Hey Baby where are you coming from Well she looked at me and smiled and looked into space and said
I'm coming from the land of the new rising sun
Then I said hey baby where are you trying to go to Then she said I'm going to spin and spread around peace of mind and a whole lotta love to you and you and you and you Hey girl I'd like to come along
Yes, I'd love to come along
Would you like to come along she asked me
Yes, take me along right now
Hey baby can I step into your world for a while Yes you can she said
Come in back with me for a while We're gonna go across the Jupiter sand and see all you people one by one
We gotta get as much cho-cha as humanely possible
That's why I'm doing it all about Hey yeah may I come along
May I come along
May I come along
Please take me"

But you must try, try and try, try and try You'll succeed at last Persecution you must bear
Win or lose you got to get your share
Got your mind set on a dream
You can get it though hard it may seem . . . "

Timothy Page

"The argument goes something like this: 'I refuse to prove that I exist,' says God, 'for proof denies faith, and without faith I am nothing.'
But,' says man, 'the Babel fish is a dead giveaway, isn't it? It could not have evolved by chance. It proves you exist, and therefore by your own arguments, you don't. QED.'
'Oh dear,' says God, 'I hadn't thought of that,' and promptly vanishes in a puff of logic."

The College Recommendation

Dear Sirs:

I have taught John Doe English for the past two years and have supervised his activities in student government for the past year. Therefore, I feel that I am in a suitable position to make an accurate estimation of his character and academic abilities.

As academic achievement is the most important factor in determining whether an applicant is worthy of attending a given college, I shall begin with a summary of John Doe's intellectual strengths and weaknesses. Quite frankly, John is intellectually an embarrassment to his teachers, his peers, and the academic world as a whole. Sometimes I think it is a wonder that he manages to zipper his fly properly, never mind writing a concise essay on the Oedipal complex interpretation of Hamlet. His spelling is atrocious, and trying to teach him to spell words like "cringing" and "vermin" is as futile an effort as teaching metaphysics to fleas. His essays would be admirable if written by a fourth grader, but are somewhat inferior in structure and style to the level expected of a high school senior, the concept of a noun being followed by a verb, sometimes followed by another noun, being quite foreign to him.

The most appropriate word to describe the quality of his mind would be "absent". After attending my English class for two years he still has not memorized the location of my classroom, and upon many an occasion, after arriving ten or more minutes late to class, he has publically vilified me and slanderously accused me of holding "kangaroo classes". I sometimes spend more than half an hour trying to convince him that my class has always met in room 362 and has never congregated in Quincy, Illinois.

From what I have heard from his math teachers, I have concluded that his mathematical skills are no better than his meager verbal abilities; it is, in fact, rumored that he still brings apples and oranges to class in order to solve algebraic equations. Finally, his physical education teacher tells me that John Doe has the agility of a duck with both legs amputated and the speed of a slug in a dish of salt.

No office holder in the history of student government at Rye Country Day has proven to be less productive than John Doe. I still consider it a miracle that he won the election, even though there were no other candidates. When he manages to arrive at the correct room for student government meetings, his motions are usually in strict adherence to the "laissez-faire" theory of government, meaning that he no sooner sits down in his chair than he falls asleep on top of the desk. This year, the proposal of his that showed the greatest degree of perspicacity and foreknowledge of the social and political feelings of his constituents was that we should form a student government.

Enough said of his intellectual abilities; I know that you are also quite interested in his personality. John Doe is, in short, less generous than Scrooge, less social and outgoing than Miss Havisham and less kind than Stalin. He is about as sensitive as a tire iron and as argumentative as Socrates, though much less adept in that field than the latter. My most horrible nightmare is to be his father. However, do not conclude from this rather pessimistic description of John Doe's personality that I hold a grudge against him. The fact that I caught him in bed with my wife prior to our divorce had no bearing on my analysis of his character.

However, in consideration of the fact that John Doe is my nephew, I do not hesitate to recommend him to your college, despite his sundry, relatively inconsequential character flaws.
